Race Preview: Rungstedland has found some good fillies to beat her in her first three starts and that may well be the case once again but she will fight it out. A lot was expected from Chatterbox on debut when only fourth and behind Rungstedland. She is sure to improve though, and it will be no surprise at all were she to turn the tables. Kitana's Joy was not disgraced on debut and should earn some more money. The Real Gone Kid filly, Say A Prayer is also capable of playing minor roles on debut.

Race Preview: Danish Dynamite is clearly better than her last run would suggest and is hard to catch over the minimum distance. Instaworthy is consistent and should fight out the finish once again. Hot Sauce is talented and seems better than her disappointing last run and would not be a surprise winner. Virgin River has found her best form since joining trainer Alan Greeff and must be respected in this line-up.

Race Preview: Master Mtoto is unbeaten in two starts so far and the manner in which he won his latest start suggests he can complete a hat-trick. U S Ranger looked unlucky not to beat that rival in his penultimate start but was comfortably seen off last time out. He will challenge for top honours once again. Stable companion First Officer may need to find a few lengths to beat those rivals but does have a place chance. Into Red Space was an impressive debut winner and the horse he beat was a wide-margin winner last week so he deserves respect as well.

Race Preview: Total Eruption showed improvement last time out and could go one place better. Playmaker does not seem an easy ride so it is interesting that blinkers are now carded to be worn. Satellite World showed improvement last time out and has claims. Straight Red had excuses for his poor last run and could be a lively danger.

That same clearly applies to Porfirio who wins when he is in the right mood. Cheeky Laddie is also capable of winning.

He is back over a sprint on the poly where he has done well. Imperial Valor showed some improvement second time out in a competitive maiden. Makes his poly debut and likely to improve.

Race Preview: Sesame was running on strongly behind the useful Master Du Rouvray last time out and has run two smart races on the poly. She can go one better. Fine Wine makes her way onto the poly but is in smart form and narrowly beaten at her last two. Prom Queen was a narrowly beaten favourite last start on the poly. A repeat showing could see her home. Psyche showed up well first run out of the maidens but was a length back to Fine Wine when last they met so does look held.

Super Fast was not far behind the ultra-consistent Good Traveller on the poly last time out. He drops in class although he does go a furlong further. Freedom Fighter ran no race first up out of the maidens. He got a hefty rating for his maiden win and has a big weight but he does have the best of the draw and one to watch in the market.

Race Preview: Saragossa Cat has her first run for a new stable. She has won two of her five starts but patchy form in between. The change of environment could bring out the best. Gary Rich has two lively runners in Dawn Surprise who has the best of the draw and whose last win was over course and distance. She has a useful claimer aboard. Stable companion De Vluggie has won her last two on the poly. She has jumped in the ratings but gets 1.5kg relief from the saddle. Qhawekazi has drawn wide but goes well over course and distance and should be a contender.
