5 Princess Of Ajjaal
1 Flying Skitt

Race Preview: Rules Of Conduct has run well in both starts. He has experience on the Polytrack and that could make all the difference at the finish. Powerofpeace produced a good debut and would not be a surprise winner but it will be the first time around the bend and her first taste of the Polytrack. Flying Skitt has not been disgraced in two starts and should earn some more money. Princess Of Ajjaal is better than her last run on a soft track and could contest the finish.

		4 Global Ally 13%	4 Global Ally 2:03.51

Race Preview: Firealley beat Zatar Magic over a similar course and distance back in August last year. That is clearly the best form available in this race and he can score if running up to that level of form again. Trainer Alan Greeff has three runners and Global Ally has Richard Fourie in the irons. That suggests he is the right one for that trainer but do not be surprised if either Bournemouth or Golden Peace finish ahead of that rival. Bournemouth has done well on this surface before and Golden Peace is in good shape.

Race Preview: Perfect Impact was unreliable in the Western Cape but he did run some nice races every now and then and could prove hard to beat on local debut trying the Polytrack. Fantine was also unreliable in the Western Cape but does have a chance on local debut and trying this surface with Richard Fourie in the irons. Fonte has only had the two starts so is also capable of improvement.

	9 Preserve Forever 19%	9 Preserve Forever 27%	4 Welsh Starlet 1:56.93

Race Preview: A weak race form wise and it may pay to give Terminal Velocity a nod. The four-year-old filly took 15 starts to crack a victory but she did do it in fine style. She was not disgraced against the boys last time out from a very bad draw and could score this time round. Lebombo Gold seems better than her last run and could contest the finish. Lana View struggled in her first post maiden run but did do a lot better last week and could have a place chance. Welsh Starlet tried a tougher race last time out and could surprise.

Race Preview: Mystical Butterfly did run well a couple of starts ago behind a filly who has won more races since. Xtines Princess and Alakazam are both making their local debut for trainers that do well with these type of horses. Fleur De Ville has had 21 starts without a win but could challenge these for top honours.

Race Preview: Nautical Landing was not disgraced on local debut and could win a race of this nature. Royal Mermaid is not easy to trust but did win her latest start and must be respected for that. Rockie Blue likes this surface and can get involved with the finish. Lady Luck is arriving for this after improved performances and are not out of it.

Race Preview: Mister Whistle is not reliable but he is capable of running well this course and distance. Aadehya is often a dangerous rival when allowed a soft lead but does have a tricky draw. Iced Marmalade was a very easy winner over this course and distance and could try and make all. Travel Master was caught too far out of his round last time out and did well to finish where he did. He has blinkers this time around and is the likely favourite for the race.

Race Preview: Genovefa is not an easy ride but she has shown a liking for this surface and is the one to beat. Dancing In Winter did well on this surface before a modest last run on the turf. Back For More is usually a danger in races at this level. Whirlybird seems much better on the turf but cannot be ruled out from a victory.
