Race Preview: Well-bred Gimme Some Luck can't be faulted having won well over 1000m and 1160m straight after. The form lines are proving strong and he could be hard to peg back again. But he meets Fierceness who won as he liked on debut. He too is well bred, should appreciate the step up in trip and has much more to come. Catfish impressed against his elders last time. He has a second go over the longer distance and can get closer but is carded to run earlier.

Race Preview: Perfect Sky did what was required to win her second start and first at this track before a smart effort in the Devon Air Stakes at Hollywoodbets Greyville. The youngster tired late after showing good pace then and should prefer being back over the straight sprint. Staggerwing looks a big threat. She is consistent and after winning her last start easily looks to be getting better with racing. Elusive Dragon needs to find more to win but has a say at the weights. Tax Free made no show on the Polytrack but he penultimate run on the turf was decent.

Race Preview: My Bonny Boy ran a great race up the straight at Hollywoodbets Kenilworth on the 2nd of June, that was his first run back after a rest and gelding, in hope that he has improved further back at home, he will be hard to beat. The well-bred newcomers add plenty of intrigue, keep a close eye on them in the market and parade ring.

Race Preview: Lightly raced four-year-old Rendezvous In Rio has decent form and is overdue to win. She ran a fair race in her first run after a long layoff and could get the job done for a stable in good form. Falloodon has been getting better with each start. She could give of her very best in her outing and go close. Hoc Est Vita didn't run to form last time. Her penultimate effort entitles her to serious respect in this line up. One to watch out for is well-related New York Groove who can only improve.

Race Preview: Heritage Ridge has run four lovely races in succession, she stayed on well to finish just over four lengths in her last run, the drop in trip is key for this filly, she will run a big race here. Barney Mcgrew improved to run a much better race last time, even though he carries top weight in this race, he loves the conditions being on the softer side, he will go close to winning. Major Apollo continues to slide in the ratings, he should be amongst the places on his best form, watch him closely at a decent price. Galactus ran a fair race on the 31st of May, he could sneak into the places.

They're closely matched based on a 1600-meter race earlier this year, with Winston's Wonder likely having the advantage on adjusted handicap terms (2kg better off). Last-win horses Onetwobucklemyshoe and One Of Those Days have room for improvement after breaks, so are safer bets.

Race Preview: One Magic sprinted away from the field in good style on debut, he potentially looks like a smart horse in the making, this will be tough for him as he takes on older horses out of the maidens, but if he finds himself in a good position turning for home, he can absolutely win again. Super Viking was just touched off by last time, it won't be easy for him with the big weight on his back, but he is very consistent, and he should run a big race again. Fort Yukon stayed on well for third in his last run on the 24th of May, he never runs a bad race, from a neat draw on Saturday, his chances must be respected. Givethatmanabells has dropped a point in the ratings from his last run on the 24th of May, he will be cherry ripe going into this race, include him into all bets at a decent price.

Race Preview: Precocious lost little in defeat when beaten on the Highveld for the first time in 5 starts since relocating from Cape Town. She returns fresh after 13-weeks, racing off a 2-point higher mark but remains open to improvement, so it could pay to follow her progress. Versatile Valentina Balducci has feature-race form so warrants respect on her reappearance after a lengthy layoff. Course-and-distance specialists Blizzard Snow and Lost For Words aren't ignored.

Race Preview: Grapes Of Wrath was very unlucky last time in the Listed Somerset 1200, she is way above average this filly, she will be hard to beat now that she steps up in trip from a good draw. Chinwag stayed on well for third on the 2nd of June, she is a big filly with a big action, she will love the extra 100m, include her into all bets. Fog In Finland ran a great race on the 31st of May, she found some traffic problems early, and then finished her race off well late, with some luck in running, she should be amongst the places. Shezaripper is much better than her last run, ignore that completely, in hope that she stays this trip of 1500m, she will run nicely.

Race Preview: Cold Shine has won both Highveld appearances, the latest at this level over a track and trip under a 3-point penalty. His rider's 2.5kg allowance negates another 3-point rise so, with any improvement in his peak outing, he should complete his hat-trick and remain unbeaten in the province. Promising 2-year-old Dads Dream will enjoy being back in a sprint but carries 60kg against older hard-knocking rivals. Consistent Maverick Queen would have tightened up after a pleasing comeback run and could improve to pose the biggest threat, especially off a reduced mark. Sakura Hanami can earn too.

Race Preview: Aquae Calidae won like a smart colt in the making on the 24th of May, the yard thinks highly of this individual, he will love the step up in trip, he has a big winning chance again from a good draw. Catwalk King powered home to win the Listed Somerset 1200 impressively on the 31st of May, that was his first run back from a rest and gelding, he can only improve, include him into all bets. From The Island has been rested for 73 days, he won a good race last time, with some luck in running from a bad draw, he should be right there in the finish. Kalahari King was a touch disappointing in the Grade 3 Winter Nursery, in hope that he relaxes in the parade ring, and moving down to the start, he can bounce back to his best form and be super competitive.

Race Preview: Pointer has held her own at a higher level and made an encouraging return to form last time off her current (career-low) rating in a stronger race over 1200m, and a similar performance could suffice at this level and end a long winless spell. Last-start scorers She's All Mine and Crystal Grove remain competitive under resultant penalties and could trouble the selection. Malshana Mou will enjoy reverting to sprints after a game-in-defeat 2nd from the front over 1450m last time, so she isn't taken lightly either.

Race Preview: Given To Fly was beaten just over seven lengths on the 3rd of May, the drop in trip is key for this filly on Saturday, she will go close to winning from a good draw. Special Glamour has run two excellent races in succession, she will be right there in the finish again on her current form. Kisses won well on the 31st of May, even though it wasn't a strong field, she won with plenty in hand, she can be very hard to peg back if she gets away from the field at the right time, watch her closely. Peaches And Cream never runs a bad race, she tries hard, she will be given every possible chance from a neat draw.
