Race Preview: Floral Tsukki Recent form offers little encouragement, with two poor finishes over 1000m and 1400m. Only a moderate effort over 1600m has been shown, with no clear signs of improvement. A significant step up is required to become competitive in this contest. Gigantomachia The switch to 900m has brought a marked improvement, with runner-up finishes in two consecutive starts. The latest seventh was below that level, but the recent sprint form remains encouraging. Harbor Show A strong runner-up effort over 900m last time signals a sharp return to form. The previous 1400m runs were disappointing, but the recent sprint showing makes this runner a serious contender. D's Method A couple of fourth-place finishes over 900m indicate useful sprinting ability. A return to earlier form would give this runner a chance of featuring prominently.

Race Preview: Dokofukukaze A solid fourth over 1400m last time keeps this runner in consideration. A similar effort could see this runner figure prominently again. Just The Queen The only recent run produced a fifth over 900m, offering limited encouragement. Stepping up to 1400m brings stamina into question, with more required to feature. Attrice A debut run over 900m produced a respectable fifth placing. The jump to 1400m is a major step up, with stamina yet to be fully assessed. Time Of River The recent form has been underwhelming, finishing well back in both sprint and middle-distance outings. A clear step forward is needed to make an impact over 1400m.

Race Preview: Allegro Vivace A respectable fourth over 1400m on debut provides a useful foundation. With natural improvement, a placing looks within reach. Kumasan Family A fifth over 1400m last time was a modest effort, though the gap was not excessive. Improvement from that run could bring this runner into contention. Kisen Sheila A fifth over 1400m last time was only a moderate effort. With another fourth over 900m previously, this runner needs to lift considerably to challenge for the minors. L'amour Sincere A fourth over 900m on debut was a fair introduction. The move up to 1400m is a different test, with stamina yet to be established.

Race Preview: Dramaturgy Recent sprint form has been encouraging, with a third followed by a fifth over 900m. The earlier record also shows useful ability at this trip, making a competitive showing likely. Ange Rhapsodie A strong second over 900m last time signals a return to form. With several solid efforts at this trip on record, this runner looks capable of making another bold bid. Tanoshisa Consistent sprint form is a positive, with two top-four finishes from the last three starts. A repeat of the latest effort could put this runner in the placing frame. Seiun Yatagarasu A poor run of form continues, with the latest two starts producing finishes well down the field. Without a significant turnaround, this runner looks difficult to recommend for a placing.

Race Preview: Shiawasecappuccino Two wins over 1400m underline a useful level of ability in earlier form. Recent runs were less convincing, while the drop to 1000m presents a different test for speed. Conti Musashi A highly consistent profile has emerged, with four consecutive top-three finishes over 1000m. Another competitive performance looks well within reach, and a win would not surprise. Ulzzang The recent 1000m record is fairly solid, highlighted by a third-place finish in June. The latest eighth was disappointing, but a rebound could see this runner back in the placing mix. Kitano Miracle A third-place finish over 1000m shows some ability, although the overall recent record lacks consistency. More is required after the latest seventh if a placing is to be considered.

The latest fourth came in C2 company, keeping this runner firmly in the reckoning for top honours. Afro Gal Excellent recent form at 1400m, highlighted by a C2 victory last time out. With several other strong efforts at this level, this runner rates as a leading contender. Heavenly Goal A C3 win earlier in July shows useful ability, but recent C2 assignments have been less convincing. A sharper effort will be needed to feature prominently over 1400m. Maruzensky Two The recent form is trending in the right direction, capped by a runner-up finish over 1400m last time. Further improvement could put this runner firmly among the place prospects.

Race Preview: Fukuno Antares Recent form provides little encouragement, with both latest 1200m outings ending well down the order. An earlier third over 1600m offers some hope, but the current profile leaves plenty to prove over 1000m. Raven Knight Back-to-back runner-up finishes over 1000m highlight the current form. With the recent sprint efforts pointing to another strong showing, this runner should be firmly in the mix. Satono Anna Recent efforts have been disappointing, with finishes well down the field over 1800m and 1200m. The sharp drop to 1000m is another question mark, leaving this runner with plenty to prove. River Jewel A fifth over 1000m last time was a fair effort without being exceptional. With limited recent form to recommend, a stronger performance is needed to challenge for the placings.

Race Preview: Yamanin Tremolo A proven performer around the middle distances, with a recent 1500m success following several strong 1600m runs. The latest fifth over 1400m was respectable, keeping this runner in the place calculations. South Of London The C2 record over 1400m is encouraging, including a win and a runner-up finish earlier this year. A solid fourth last time keeps this runner well in the placing picture. Freezing Fog The latest seventh over 1400m was underwhelming, continuing a mixed recent profile. A previous 1500m victory offers some encouragement, but a sharper effort is required here. Bella Vittoria A C2 win over 1500m in July shows the ability to compete at this level, while the latest eighth was below that standard. Race Preview: Marino Marvelous Recent outings have offered little encouragement, with both runs finishing well down the field. The drop to 1000m brings a new test, and this runner has plenty to prove over the shorter trip. Oishi Sakura A July success over 1000m confirms the ability to handle this sharp trip. The latest ninth was disappointing, but back-to-back seconds over 1200m earlier in the season offer plenty of encouragement. Army Look The recent 1000m form has been respectable, with several finishes close enough to suggest useful ability. A stronger closing effort is required to turn that consistency into a placing. Harehahini A 1000m win in June shows some ability, though the form has faded in recent outings. A sharper effort is needed after the latest eighth to get involved.

Race Preview: Cloudy Looks The return to 900m has transformed the recent form, with three straight top-two finishes including a win last time. This runner is clearly thriving at the sprint trip and deserves serious consideration. Kurino Florence Strong recent form over 1400m includes a win and two further top-four finishes. The sharp drop to 900m is the key question, with sprinting pace yet to be established. Five M Consistency is the standout feature, with three consecutive runner-up finishes at 900m. A previous victory over the same trip adds further confidence, making this runner a major threat. Mitsukane Aries A third-place finish over 900m last time suggests the sprint form is heading in the right direction. With previous placed form over 1400m also on record, this runner can be considered for the minors.

Race Preview: Ayasan Jolene Recent 1200m form has been disappointing, with consecutive ninth-place finishes. An earlier fourth offers some encouragement, but a significant improvement is needed to feature. Porickey The latest seventh over 1200m was a moderate comeback effort. Previous success at 1100m and a placed finish over 1600m suggest there is enough ability to warrant consideration. Sei Gen The latest seventh in B4 was below the earlier standard. Previous C1 form included a 1000m win and a strong second over 1200m, suggesting this runner can bounce back. Pierre Tennessee A standout record at 1200m features four straight top-two finishes before a strong runner-up effort in B4 last time. The upward trend makes this runner a serious contender for another prominent finish.

Race Preview: Seikan Sanran A runner-up finish over 1400m last time points to a return to form. The earlier seventh over 1500m was only moderate, but proven experience at longer trips suggests stamina should not be an issue. Ryuno Artist Form over 1400m has been inconsistent, highlighted by a third-place finish in June. With mixed results since, the step up to 1500m makes this runner difficult to assess confidently. Vuelo Oscuras Two straight victories over 1400m make this runner one of the more progressive prospects in the field. The extra 100m is the only query, but another bold showing is expected. Guapisima The latest fourth over 1400m was encouraging, following an earlier third at the same trip. Moving up to 1500m brings a stamina test, with further improvement needed to feature.

Race Preview: Dujac Solid recent form at 1200m includes two top-four finishes in B4. A previous C1 success adds confidence, making this runner a credible place prospect. Geist Segen A superb sequence of results features wins in two of the last five 1200m starts. With three further runner-up finishes during that period, this runner is clearly a major threat. Virtue A powerful 1200m record includes three consecutive victories and a C1 runner-up finish. The latest fifth was a step down, but a return to peak form would make this runner highly competitive. Win Protea Recent efforts have lacked impact, with sixth and ninth-place finishes over 1200m. Earlier sprint runs were also below par, so a marked improvement is needed to feature.

Race Preview: Himawari Shower A return to winning form over 1400m last time is a clear positive. Earlier efforts were mixed, but the latest performance suggests this runner could remain competitive. Live Baffly A highly productive spell in C2 company has produced two wins and a second from the last three runs. The latest 1400m effort was particularly strong, placing this runner among the leading contenders. Hiroki A strong record over 1400m includes two recent victories, while the latest third over 1600m confirms useful versatility. Returning to 1400m should bring this runner back into the winning picture. Tatsuno Special Recent middle-distance form has been encouraging, with consecutive seconds over 1500m and 1600m. Returning to the top grade should not deter this runner from another bold attempt. Nyan Moro Switch to 900m has brought excellent results, including a win and two runner-up finishes. Despite the rise to C1, this runner looks capable of mounting another strong challenge. Grand Mermaid A perfect four-from-four sequence over 900m underlines outstanding current form, capped by a C1 victory last time. This runner arrives in top order and rates as a major winning chance. Lemon Grass A proven C1 performer at 900m, highlighted by a recent win and third-place finish at this level. The established sprint form makes another competitive run a realistic prospect.

Earlier C1 success over 1200m further strengthens the profile, making this runner a major threat in B3. Takeno Roule A consistent sprint profile includes a recent B3 win and three fourth-place finishes over 1000m. This runner remains a solid place contender on current form. Dual Career Strong form at 1200m includes wins at B3 and C1, along with two further podium finishes. The shorter 1000m is an untested angle, but the class credentials command respect. Queen's Artemis The third over 1000m in June offers a positive reference for this trip. Recent 1200m efforts have been less convincing, so a return to sharper form is needed.

Bear Bakkyun Two recent wins at 1600m and 1500m underline a strong middle-distance profile. The latest success over the mile makes this runner one to watch closely. George Tesoro A previous A-class victory over 1600m provides a solid reference for this trip. Recent 1400m efforts have been modest, but the return to a mile could spark improvement. Gold Legacy A previous A-class win over 1600m shows proven ability at this level. Recent form has been less convincing, including a ninth over this trip, so a rebound is needed to feature.

Race Preview: Tree Of Life Consistent sprint form includes two wins and three seconds from the last five starts. A previous runner-up over 1200m is encouraging, giving this runner a solid chance of featuring again. Sellout Crowd Two starts over 1000m have produced an unbeaten record, highlighting sharp early pace. The move to 1200m is an unknown, though the winning momentum makes this runner a strong contender. Dokkan Cabbage A winning debut over 1100m was an encouraging start. The step up to 1200m brings a new test, but further progress looks possible. Rosette Ribbon Victories over both 1200m and 1000m show a useful blend of speed and stamina. The latest fifth was below the earlier standard, but a return to 1200m could bring a better performance.

Race Preview: Watashide lidesuka A strong middle-distance record features wins over 1500m and two consecutive 1700m races. Although the form is dated, the proven stamina gives this runner an interesting chance over 2000m. Oriko El Dorado A sixth over 2000m last time was a respectable step forward at the distance. Two straight 1500m wins earlier in the season add to the appeal, making a stronger finish possible. Valentine Gift The latest 11th over 2000m leaves stamina as the main question. Earlier form includes a 1500m fourth and a 1600m win, offering some hope of improvement. Esprit Gonzalez Recent 1600m form has been consistent, with back-to-back seconds in C1. The jump to 2000m is a stamina test, though the current level of form deserves respect.
