Race Preview: Golden Fifties is a five-year-old but he has only had the two starts. He did show enough in those two starts to suggest he is good enough to win on local debut. Stone Of Scone is not reliable but is capable of contesting the finish when in the right mood. J Lordi is improving and clearly not out of it. Crimson Clover can be a threat on local debut.

Race Preview: Jewel Mule looked primed to score last week but was withdrawn after failing her second CO test. She can win on local debut. Redlight Lane is threatening to win a race and should pick up the pieces if that rival does not run as well as expected. Harpa makes a local debut and could be a threat. Kim Kay is clearly better than what she showed last time out and has a place chance.

Race Preview: Frequent Traveller was often competitive in the Western Cape without scoring. She may, well score on local debut. Burning Desire was only modest on local debut but is likely to improve. Lady Limoncello remains in good shape and can get involved with the finish once again. Island Jewel is capable of playing minor role.

Race Preview: Anatolian Silver has held form nicely all year and deserves a winning turn. Makhachev is a game front-runner but will have to fight off many challengers to win this one. Home Reef is talented when at his best and has a chance. Wild Fig has improved of late and has every chance of completing a hat-trick.

Race Preview: Hazel Green has been costly to follow but she made promising improvement second run in KZN and could be the right one in this line-up. Eastern Glow steps up to what may be a more suitable trip and caught the eye in her latest poly sprint. Tears Of The Sun has the best of the draw and has shown steady and consistent form. She looks to be the pick of the Mike Miller pair. Queen Of Denmark made good improvement second time out. That was on the poly but she looks to have come to hand.

Race Preview: Noctambulist started at long odds when runner-up in an Open Maiden last time out. He enjoyed the extended trip and should run well in a modest maiden field. Crimson Typhoon takes on males but has been much improved at her last two on the poly. She should be a big runner in this line-up. Fire Force is a long-time battling maiden but has shown up well in his last two and can feature again.

Race Preview: Tunguska had consistent Cape form and may just have needed his last start. Zena Rose has drawn wide but has been in good form under Keagan de Melo and is capable. Shiny Bob has come good of late and goes well this trip. He is up in class but only has 50kg to shoulder but also an inexperienced apprentice. Day Two is a late starter and is 5,5kg worse off with Shiny Bob. However, his current form is hard to fault and he can deny the handicapper.

Race Preview: Future Variety has been up against much stronger at recent outings but does have a big weight and a wide draw to contend with. Position Of Power is in smart form and De Melo has been aboard at his last three wins and the form of his last run has been franked. He has a favourable gate and will be a big threat. Teflon Man had it tough from a wide draw last time out. He is seldom far back and at best will feature. Thisiswhatitmeans seems best on the poly but does have a chance on his best form.

Race Preview: Drumnadrochit got a hefty shunt up the ratings after finishing in unplaced seventh in the Gr 2 Gauteng Fillies Guineas. She was a distant third in the SA Oaks and is back down to what looks to be a more suitable trip. That's My Baby has run two smart recent races on this course in useful company. And has a strong winning chance. Miss Twinkle is lightly raced but never far back. She has had three runs since a break and showed up well in good company last time put. Front the best of the draw she should be a contender. Swiatek has the widest draw and makes her local debut for Justin Snaith. She has steady Cape form over the distance and any market support must be taken seriously.

Race Preview: What A Fortune was a beaten favourite at his last two but not far back. He is down in class but will go close on his best form. Maphaka is in good form and arguably over his best trip. He has a good draw and should put in another forward showing. Future Flo is seldom out of the money and although he has the widest gate to contend with, he does get 1.5kg relief from the saddle and he should be a strong contender. City Of Love has been a tough disappointing but is back over his best trip and at best will make them all gallop.

Race Preview: Steamy Windows was a beaten favourite over shorter last time put but has smart form in strong company over this trip prior to that. He gets first time blinkers from a handy draw and could prove hard to beat. Next Of Kin is never far behind and goes well this trip. Blue Steel is not the easiest ride and his best recent form has been on the poly. He has a big weight but on his best form he should be a contender while Tam's Knight is better off at the weights with Blue Steel, the latter does appear to have more to offer.
