Race Preview: Tp Thunderchild has hit the crossbar three times in a row and can go one place better this time. Lovely Dancer is holding her form and could have a winning turn. Tipsy is clearly better than her last run would suggest and should fight out the finish. Moon Girl makes a local debut and could contest the finish.

Race Preview: Winteronthegreen showed what she is capable of with a solid success last time out. She has cracked a good draw and may well follow up. Iced Marmalade showed a form return last time and her trainer is in very good form. Rules Of Conduct would prefer further but would also not be a surprise winner. Truly Magical seems to be improving and is not out of it.

Race Preview: Queen Of Castille was doing her best work at the finish last time out. She showed good improvement from her debut and could go close to scoring. Harpa was not disgraced on local debut and could have more to offer. Green Point is threatening to win a race and must be respected yet again. Priceless Treasure has lost her way in her last two starts but was very consistent before that and can be a threat.

Race Preview: Too Late My Mate has been unlucky not to win either of her last two starts and is ready for a winning turn. Laguna Verde is clearly better than his last run and could contest the finish. Above The Horizon is threatening a success and must be respected for that. Johnny Drama tends to lack a strong finish but can earn some money.

Race Preview: Mercantour won the Polytrack Challenge last year and is back in Leg 1 and ready to do it again. This is a tough start for him without regular rider Richard Fourie, but he does get the vote to score. Cruise Control is a class sprinter and has won twice over this course and distance so deserves the utmost respect. Fairy Knight has not been at his very best of late but would not be a surprise winner. Mover And Shaker is unreliable but does possess talent and could surprise.

Race Preview: Iona Castle quickened nicely to win on local debut and could have more to offer. Lotus Silk is better on grass but ran well enough last time out to suggest she can win this. Genovefa loves the Polytrack and is distance suited so is in with a shot at more success. Desert Cloud seems to be improving and is not out of it.

Race Preview: Cuba Libre is lightly raced and both runs have been on soft turf. He makes his poly debut and can make the required improvement although at face value the form does not stack up. The filly Floral Kingdom has run two smart races on the poly. She steps up in trip but has a very much in form Keagan de Melo to help her home. Prince Of Rabada has improved with cheek pieces. He has a handy galloping weight and has a money chance. Xiphos continues to disappoint but is better than his last two on the turf. Back on poly he should be competitive.

Race Preview: Having just turned three, Powerofpeace could be better than rated and looks the one to be with. White Waters is not reliable but always capable of surprising when in the right mood. Icy Lancaster is unreliable but can get involved with the finish. Alex Miller has been threatening a second success for some time but is not an easy ride.

Race Preview: Klein Karoo made the highly rated Coast Of The Sun work for victory last time out. The latter may have needed the outing but it was still a brave effort from Ricky Maingard's runner whose last win was over course and distance. Next Of Kin is holding form well and enjoys the poly. He was touched off last start and looks a lively threat. Going on jockey bookings Dricus appears to be the best of the Andre Nel pair. He was a winner over the distance last time out and only got a three-point raise in the handicap. Cowdray Park may have needed his last run over a sprint and steps up to what looks to be a more suitable trip.

Race Preview: Maphaka won well last time out and has gone close over course and distance. He should be competitive. Banff has his first run for a new stable. He shows some useful form in good company and if taking to the poly he will be a big runner. De Vluggie is back on her favourite surface. She has excellent form over course and distance and with a handy galloping weight she should run another forward race. Future Flo is never far back. He meets Maphaka on the same weight terms and he should be competitive.

Race Preview: Shiny Bob goes well over the trip and is back on what looks to be his preferred surface. Princess Palace showed signs of her best form last time out. She gets a 4kg claimer aboard which should see her competitive. Mohandas had his last win over course and distance two runs back. He was not far back when taking on stronger last run on the turf and the switch back to poly will suit. National Dream is way better than his last two on the turf. He is best on the poly and can feature in a difficult race.

Race Preview: Sesame denied the handicappers last time out with a comfortable victory. She got a seven-point raise in the ratings but is at the top of her game and can deny the handicap again. Thoonsil last win came over course and distance. He was a beaten favourite on the turf last run and can improve back on the poly. Queue Wing is a veteran but has been holding form well. He is down in class and a ninth win is not out of the equation. Tee Dog was a close-up fourth last run on the turf and looks the pick of Wendy Whitehead's pair.

Race Preview: Arilena makes the trip from the Highveld but has run well over course and distance in the past. She has been in good form of late and should put in a good showing. Got The Word is struggling for his second win but goes very well on the poly and distance is no problem. Cappellino is something of a five-furlong specialist but gets the benefit of a 4kg claimer and can go all the way. These three are drawn alongside each other. Mountainsofthemoon has been trying further of late but is seldom far back. She must have a strong chance on her best form.

Race Preview: Dog Soldier is a lightly raced three-year-old who won well when shedding his maiden. He takes on much older modest handicappers but looks progressive and can follow up. Send Me is struggling for his second win but has shown recent improvement in blinkers and should be competitive in this line-up. Sail To The Moon goes well on the poly and has been knocking on the door for some time now. He will never get a better chance at a third win. King Bavarian only got a two-point raise in the ratings for his last win. Both recent wins have come on the turf.
