Race Preview: Rungstedland has been runner-up in her last three starts and is overdue a first success. This is her first taste of the Polytrack. J Lordi has improved of late and should be involved in the finish. Rocking In Rio has only been modest so far but returns from a break and having gelded can make dramatic improvement. American Gem does seem better on the grass but can earn some money in a race of this nature.

Race Preview: Bai Yulu makes her local debut and she would not be a surprise winner. Made To Measure is threatening a first success but does appear a difficult ride to actually win with. Burning Desire showed improvement last time out and could go one place better. Kim Kay should contest the finish.

Race Preview: Hat Montera does not always show her best side. She did just need the run in a better race last time out and has won for this apprentice so gets the vote to score. Ginger Delight is at best on the Polytrack and is clearly better than her last run. Royal Missy has not been disgraced in her last two starts and is not out of it. Flight Display is better than her last run shows and can bounce back and be a threat.

Race Preview: Sabrage is improving and may well complete a hat-trick but this is a tougher task. Hollandia Bakkerij has some fair form and is not out of it. Hoodwinked did his best work late last time out and could be ready for a winning turn. Sixtyzero receive weight from the rivals and might be dangerous.

Race Preview: Travel Master has had some solid wins of late. New frontrunning tactics were tried and he has thrived. Palancar showed his best side with a good win last time out and may follow up. Prince Florian is not an easy ride but is course and distance suited and should be included in all bets. Hospices De Beaune is capable of getting into the mix.

Race Preview: First Officer was a couple of lengths behind the leading two-year-olds last season and could score. Susurrando has improved this year and should be a threat once again. Givethatmanabells was a well-supported, easy winner of his latest start and must be respected for that. Eugenius has improved of late and can make the frame.

Midnight Music showed improvement last time out and could go one place better. Saboteur is a recent maiden winner that could have more to offer. Lilac Snow makes a local debut and could shine.

Mystical Butterfly is well drawn this time so a better run can be expected. Moscow Miss needed her last run and can bounce back to be a real threat to these rivals. Whirlybird could have more to offer.
